NOONGAR RADIO SOUNDS SOLID WITH TWO NEW SHOWS

Perth's only Aboriginal radio station has two new specialist radio shows on the airwaves of Perth.

Mechelle Wilson, a singer/songwriter with the popular The Old Flames Band has joined the Noongar Radio team and will present a weekly, one hour show called Indigenous Beats.

Country music enthusiast and NME Director John Penny has also joined the broadcast team to present a weekly country music request program.

Mechelle's show, Indigenous Beats will showcase the musical talents and achievements Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander musicians, singers and songwriters.

John's show, Penny Country, will give country music fans the chance to hear all their favourite C&W tracks.

Penny Country airs Sundays between 3pm and 5pm. It's followed by Indigenous Beats from 5-6pm.

John and Mechelle join a small, but dedicated team of Noongar radio volunteers.

Kerry Reid and Karla Hart are volunteer presenters of the RnB show which goes to air Friday's between 6 and 9pm.

The 2 Norty Bros, Jamahl Ryder and Samuel Pilot Kickett, present the Hip Hop Show every Friday from 9pm –midnight.

Noongar Radio has received strong interest from community members wanting to get involved in their local community broadcaster and the station will soon be holding training sessions to bring more Aboriginal people to the airwaves of Perth.
